

What sub-systems and functions can you identify from various parts?
What does this become a system: a car?

